

Train AI project: we are looking for students or graduates native in Romansh language to work with us on evaluating the Machine translation output from Artificial Intelligence. This is a very general task where you will only need to assess the quality of the results from a Artificial Intelligence generated content.

If you are interested you can email your CV to mdelrosario@sdl.com

This is a paid task and we can pay through Paypal, Tipalti or any other method, the rates per service will be determined according to your results on a small language test.