

Intern - Risk, Regulatory & Compliance

Location: Zurich

Work Pattern Percentage: 80-100%

Curious about how the financial world really works — and how regulation shapes the future of banks and financial institutions?

If you're eager to learn, excited to explore regulatory topics, and want to gain hands-on experience in a dynamic consulting environment, then this is the place to kick-start your journey.

Join a team of business, finance and legal experts that helps financial institutions stay ahead in a world shaped by constant change. We work on topics that matter — from solving strategic and legal challenges, implementing new regulations, managing non-financial and compliance risks in an increasingly complex environment. As an intern, you'll be part of project teams, gain hands-on experience from experts, and build the skills that set the foundation for your future career.

- Support on strategic, risk, regulatory, compliance and legal projects in the Swiss financial services sector
- Assist in reviewing processes, governance structures, compliance frameworks and support the design of optimized workflows, operating models under the guidance of experienced team members
- Help prepare presentations, reports, and documentation for internal and client-facing use
- Collaborate with team members across disciplines to support daily project work and internal initiatives

How you can make an impact

- Work on strategic risk, regulatory and legal topics that shape the future of financial services at top tier financial institutions
- Learn from a highly motivated team with deep expertise in Swiss and European financial market regulation — and grow your skills every day
- Bring your curiosity and analytical mindset to the team by supporting research, analysis, and preparation of client deliverables

- Contribute to internal initiatives such as thought leadership, market insights, or proposal preparation — and discover how consulting firms position themselves in the market

Who We Are Looking For

- Bachelor's or Master's student or graduate with an excellent academic record in law, business, economics, finance, engineering or a similar field
- Strong interest in financial services, legal, regulatory and compliance topics
- First practical experience through internships or university projects is a plus
- Analytical mindset, strong quantitative and conceptual skills, curiosity and willingness to learn
- You are fluent in English and German
